

Jasur Kholkhujaev has successfully defended his PhD dissertation at Politecnico di Torino (Italy) on the topic “Innovative geometrical and mechanical characterization of metallic components”

TTPU “Mechanical and aerospace engineering” department doctorate student Jasur Kholkhujaev has successfully defended his PhD dissertation at Politecnico di Torino (Italy) on the topic “Innovative geometrical and mechanical characterization of metallic components”, under the supervision of Prof. Gianfranco Genta (Politecnico di Torino) and Prof. Jamshid Inoyatkhodjaev (TTPU) and was awarded with PhD diploma.

□On behalf of our university team, we congratulate Jasur Kholkhujayev and wish great success in his future professional and scientific activities.