

A meeting was held with the youth attached to the university

At the Turin Polytechnic University in Tashkent, a meeting was held with the youth of the Iyk ota and Sokhil mahallas of the Bektemir district, attached to the university.

At the meeting, the rector of the university, Olimjon Toychiev, met with the young people and held a conversation on the issues of ensuring their employment in the first place, finding their place in life, and spending their free time in a meaningful way.

At the end of the meeting, the young people were presented with a 1mln. soum voucher for training courses and souvenirs by the university administration. The young people were also given a tour of the university and introduced to student projects.

It should be noted that the reforms being carried out in our country are significant in that they are based on the principle of "For the sake of human dignity." This can also be seen in the example of today's practical actions.

