

Transforming the World Through Human-Centered Design: Insights from a Seminar by a Korean Professor Kwan Myung Kim

On September 25 of this year, Korean professor Kwan Myung Kim, Dean of Research affairs of Ulsan National Institute of Science and Technology (South Korea) visited Turin Polytechnic University in Tashkent.

A tour of the university was organized for the guest, and the conditions created by the university, in particular, the projects implemented by university students were introduced.

During the event, a meeting was held with the participation of TTPU Rector Olimjon Tuychiev. At the meeting, a presentation was made about the activities of the university and future cooperation was discussed.

Also, a seminar by a Korean professor Kwan Myung Kim focused on the theme "Human-Centered Design that Transforms the World" was held for university students. The event attracted a diverse audience, including students and design enthusiasts, all eager to explore how design can address real-world challenges.

During the seminar, professor gave valuable advices to students, shared his experience on human-centred design and answered all their questions.