

An excursion was organized for “Architecture and Design” students of TTPU

On October 14 of this year, to practically reinforce the theoretical knowledge gained during studies, Enter Engineering organized a tour for second-year “Architecture and Design” students of the Turin Polytechnic University in Tashkent.

During the tour, the students became familiar with the construction process of the National Agency for Social Protection building, in particular, with the layout of structural and communication systems, room dimensions on each floor, dismantling works, as well as the render showing the interior and exterior design of the building. They also, while communicating with foremen and construction workers, not only received practical advice but also had the opportunity to get answers to relevant questions about the profession.

At the end of the tour, TTPU students were invited by representatives of Enter Engineering to revisit the site and see the results of the restoration work upon its completion.
